Summary

I am an energetic and adaptable professional with a diverse background in game development, cybersecurity and software development. After a successful tenure as a game developer in a startup environment, I decided to pursue my passion for system and network security. I received intensive training at Wissen Akademie to improve my skills in this field. I am currently working as an R&D Software Engineer at Tosyalı Holding. Here I leverage my interdisciplinary skills to drive innovation and tackle complex challenges. I have a proven ability to thrive in dynamic environments and contribute to cutting-edge projects. I am passionate about continuous learning and using technology to create a positive impact.
